The engines are running, the cars are packed and five European cities and an island are bracing themselves for the arrival of 500 students taking part in the inaugural student gumball rally, which begins on Sunday. The rally, which lasts six days, will see 150 teams drive the 1,500 miles from the UK to Croatia, via Germany, the Czech Republic and Hungary, for fun, friendship and the chance to win £1,000. We're rooting for the '3 Girls and No Dam Map' team, although 'Spannered and Exhausted' could prove interesting to watch behind the wheel.
